SUNOL OFFICER NAZI PRISONER BECOMES FATHER

PLEASANTON — It was reported here last week that a letter had been received at Sunol from JOHN P PEDRI, son of John V. Pedri of Sunol, that he was a gunner in one of the planes that raided Germany when the plane in which DOUGLAS RORABACK of Sunol was a bombardier was shot down. John, who is now in England, said he saw the planes go down and the pilots bail out, and that every "chute" opened. This leads to the belief that Douglas, recently reported missing, is a prisoner in Germany.

Meanwhile his wife gave birth last week to twin daughters in the San Jose Hospital.

Students will probably not be in uniform.

The smallest senior class in many years registered—a total of 75 as compared with last year's 120 graduates. Of the 75 only 35 are boys. The junior class registered 83; the sophomores, 131 and the freshmen 151. In the agricultural department 38 were enrolled.

Changes in the non-certified staff include Hannah Rose, assistant in the cafeteria who has resigned and who will not be replaced and John Taylor, bus driver and custodian who is succeeded by Fred Andrade of Niles as custodian, the bus to be driven by one of the faculty.

Principal Goold is urging boys over the compulsory school attendance age to return to school until called to duty in the Army, the Navy or the other armed services. In this case, seniors would be granted diplomas provided their records are satisfactory, he says.

FIRE CAUSES $5000 LOSS AT C. F. SALZ CO.

"It ain't hay", said Manuel Muniz foreman at the C. F. Salz Warehouse here as his nose took an expert sniff Monday. "It's peanuts", s aid Alfred Brown, warehouse workman.

It was. Eighty tons of peanuts worth $5000 destroyed in a fire caused by spontaneous combustion but the peanuts were in the middle of the barn holding 700 tons of hay and a six-hour job by Chief Roland Bendel and the Decoto Volunteer Fire Department is credited by Salz with preventing a $20,000 fire. It took 12 men five hours to throw out the bigs of peanuts which had presumably been smoldering for several weeks. By-products, they were destined for stock feed.

About 10 years ago the Salz Feed Company at Irvington lost $275 000 in a warehouse fire there. Loss in both cases was covered by insurance.

Township Raises 200,000 War $$

CENTERVILLE — Purchase of $200,000 of War Bonds in the Third Drive by Washington Township residents was reported Tuesday night by Chairman L. R. Burdick of Newark to a special meeting of a score of town chairmen, postmasters and postmistresses held in the little cafeteria at the high school.

While this figure represents considerable effort by the chairmen and their corps of assistants we were $125 000 behind our quota as of that date. The Township's quota for the Third Drive which ends September 30 is $560,000 or about twice and a half what our purchases were in the Second Drive held last April, when we exceeded our quota.

By special agreement between Township banks depositors who withdraw money from their savings accounts for the purchase of bonds before the end of this month will be granted full interest earnings for July and August on the sums withdrawn, and the bonds purchased therewith begin to draw interest from September 1, regardless of the day of the month they are purchased, Chairman Burdick announced.

Therefore parties who withdraw surplus funds from savings to invest in the current bond drive will suffer no loss of interest. Funds left in bank savings draw one and one-half percent interest; money put into bonds earn 2.9 percent interest, or nearly double the interest rate if invested in bonds during the current drive.

On Tuesday evening, September 28 the Alvarado Theatre will show a special Hollywood preview furnished by the government with free tickets provided those who purchase bonds prior to that date at the Central Bank or Postoffice in Alvarado, Chairman J. R. Blacow announced.

Lodges or clubs which have organization funds lying idle are especially urged to invest them in bonds during the current drive in order to help the Township reach its quota.

There is only one week left in this campaign which ends next Thursday night, September 30 and only about one-third of the Township's population has invested in the Third War Bond drive, according to summaries received by the general chairman from the community chairmen.

Which means that local investors will have to "step on it" if they wish to share in the present patriotic money-raising undertaking. Our government is only BORROWING your money at interest; enemy governments would TAKE your money, if they could.

That's what we're fighting for: to keep our liberties and our possessions from being stolen from us—and war costs money. W. W.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him." These words from Isaiah comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, September 26, in all Churches of Christ Scientist The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Reality."

Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there she be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away," (Rev. 21: 4).

The following passage from the Christian Science taxtbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "The Revelator was on our pane of existence, while yet beholding what the eye cannot see,—that which is invisible to the uninspired thought. —Take heart, dear sufferer, for this reality of being will surely appear sometime and in some way. There will be no more pain, and all tears will be wiped away,' (p. 573).

Thoughts on the care and use of meat

WITH so little time available, I've had to cut my food shopping trips down to about three times a week. And I've found this presents some real problems in how to keep meats at home, and what kinds to buy so they will keep. Under rationing, of course, we have to be extra careful.

I've discovered one simple little formula. When I shop, I buy a quick-cooking meat for use that very evening and a longer-cooking, good-keeping variety for the next night or two.

Sometimes, when they're available, I get chops or ground meat to use right away. At the same time, I get lamb or beef ribs for long cooking, and wieners or sausage to keep.

Any meat that I want to keep for a day or two without cooking, like beef, pork, veal or lamb, I handle this way: After unwrapping it, I lay meat on pieces of waxed paper and fold it over so ends are open and pop it right into the refrigerator. I've learned that if it's wrapped too tightly, it may spoil.

Some, I know, store meat in the freezing unit of their refrigerator, or else have a special container for meat. I've tried putting meat right in the freezing unit, because it keeps well for a long time there—but I had a terrible time getting it out again unless I defrosted the refrigerator and of course it must be thawed before using.

I've been preparing meat for our dinners in a variety of ways, recently. Here are two of the ideas I have found especially good:

Kidney Saute—Allow 2 lamb kidneys per person. Wash and slice thinly; flour heavily; saute in bacon drippings or other shortening until brown. Add water to cover; season to taste with salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Cook until tender over low heat, about 20 minutes. Serve over hot toast, biscuits, rice or noodles.

Oven Barbecued Ribs—Use breast of lamb or pork spare ribs allowing about a half lb. per person. Place whole or half rack of ribs in pan, meat-side up, and cook 1 hour to 1 hour and a half in a 400° F. oven or until brown and done. Turn when half-way through cooking and season with salt and pepper.

STEP UP YOUR MEALS WITH SAUCES is the title of my article in this week's Family Circle Magazine. I think you'll find some interesting ideas in it. Your free copy is ready at your Safeway.

GET WHAT YOU PAY FOR

IS THIS ALL THE ORANGE JUICE WE GET, IRENE?
GEE, YOU'RE STINGY WITH ME, TOO—HARDLY ANY IN MY GLASS.
I KNOW, MY DEARS. BUT I DIDN'T GET TO THE GROCER'S TILL LATE, YESTERDAY....
... AND HE HAD ONLY ONE KIND OF ORANGES LEFT. THEY LOOKED NICE AND BIG, AND A DOZEN COST QUITE A LOT. I THOUGHT THEY'D BE JUICY.
WE HAD SOME OF THE WORST ORANGES THIS MORNING, NELLIE. THEY LOOKED FINE, BUT THERE WAS HARDLY ANY JUICE IN THEM.
THAT'S ODD, IRENE. I GOT SOME YESTERDAY TOO, AND THEY WERE JUST HEAVY WITH JUICE! AT SAFEWAY, YOU KNOW, THEY SELL THEM BY WEIGHT...
...AND OF COURSE IT'S THE WEIGHT OF AN ORANGE THAT SHOWS HOW MUCH JUICE THERE IS IN IT. BIG, LIGHTWEIGHT ORANGES SIMPLY HAVE MORE PULP AND LESS JUICE.
THAT SOUNDS LIKE THE WAY TO BUY ORANGES! THINK I'LL TRY SAFEWAY NEXT TIME

At Safeway, You Pay For Exactly What You Get!

Pricing produce by the pound has been a Safeway habit for years. Here, you select the individual items you want, pay for them by weight, and know you've gotten what you paid for!

To the People of this Community:

PLAIN WARNING TO YOU!

Here is a plain warning for you . . .

"This war will last until 1949 or longer if the home front fails to back up our men in battle" . . . Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy.

Buying War Bonds to the point of temporary personal sacrifice is the most direct way you can comply with Secretary Knox's appeal.

"Temporary sacrifice" is the correct phrase because you are only lending your money when you buy War Bonds. This government which never has defaulted on an obligation will pay you back $4 for every $3 invested if you hold the bonds for 10 years.

The least you can do is to back the attack with War Bonds today. Buy extra Bonds above your normal Bond buying.

DIMOUT RESTRICTIONS TO BE MODIFIED

Best news for civilians since coffee was released from rationing comes out of San Francisco this week where Lt. Gen Delos C. Emmons, successor of General DeWitt as Western Defense Commander says that dimout restrictions may be modified or lifted from Zone 2 communities, meaning those which are more than 15 miles inland and which do not contain prime military objectives.

Zone 2 would include the communities of Washington Township, with the possible exception of Newark. Perhaps we can look forward to using our porch and yard lights again, leaving our window shades up at night and having store windows lighted at night again.

Orders have already been issued that inland traffic lights which are not visible from the sea may be unshielded. So life will become easier for civilians and traffic accidents in present dimout areas should be reduced.

The headquarters of the Western Defense Command, by the way, has been moved from the Presidio of San Francisco to San Jose, a recent newspaper dispatch reveals.

JAPS LOST A BASE— AND FACE

The forced evacuation of fog-shrouded Kiska must have been a bitter pill for the Japanese High Command to swallow. Its possession represented the high-water mark of their Eastern offensive, and had been of incalculable value to them in their propaganda campaign to convince the people of Asia that the United States could not defend its own territory, much less come to their rescue.

The unopposed American occupation of Kiska marked the first time since the war began that a large Japanese unit tucked its tail between its legs and fled when confronted with an Allied force.

This punched another hole in the myth that the Japanese army has no word for 'retreat" in its manual of commands. It proved that the Nips not only have a command to cover the process of back-tracking by their soldiers, but are not too eager to perish to use it.

Tokio has been trying to explain away the abandonment of Kiska by picturing the withdrawal of its troops as a victory. But the technique will fool few people in Asia. Contrary to popular western belief, the Oriental mind is a realistic one. The hard facts of life in the Orient have made it so.

Double-talk, whether it emanates from the Japanese or the United Nations, leaves the bulk of the people of Asia singularly unimpressed.

From a propaganda standpoint, the Japanese not only have lost a base—but face. And to them, the second loss is just as bitter as the first.

"COOKIE BRIGADE"

"A Cookie for your Rookie"
Seems a silly thing to say
Yet it turns the darkest midnight
Into bright and shining day.

Soldiers, Sailors, Aviators,
Husky Coast Guards and Marines—
All our lads and how we love them
And to show them what we mean

We are baking, hundreds of us—
Mothers, sisters, sweethearts, wives.
Even Grandma smiles serenely,
Knowing she is brightening lives.

I think we all remember
When our lads were little folk,
Standing high—perhaps on tiptoe
Many a cookie jar they broke.

Men are only boys grown taller,
So they need a bigger jar
'Cause each one has grown quite hungry
Since away from home so far.

Just to know someone is baking—
Someone's mother thought of him
Does a lot to help a fellow
When the days are tough and grim.

May we be a Port of Welcome—
Every boy who comes within
Be reminded ever after
That we really care for him.

RUBBER IN 1943

(The Oakland Tribune)

We approach the fall of 1943—that dread season when we were told in portentous tones that our rubber stocks would fall below the margin of military safety.

That was six months ago and the dire day is nearly here. But we are now told by P. W. Litchfield, chairman of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co, that synthetic rubber is coming in so fast that there is no risk of depleting our natural rubber supplies. "We are producing synthetic in the same quantity that the entire United Nations were using natural rubber before the war."

Tires for civilian cars? By next Spring—that will depend upon manpower and transportation available to supply them. In short, we started cutting down on gasoline to save tires, and we may soon be cutting down on tires to save gas.

But the main thing is that another Hitler hope has gone glimmering. Thanks to American business enterprise.

COUNTY OLD AGE AID NOW REACHES $45.49 MONTHLY

Old age assistance rolls in Alameda county were upped by 174 new cases during July, California Taxpayers' association's study of the first month of increased and more liberal old age aid laws in California counties shows.

The number of people receiving aid in the county went from 7,231 in June to 7,373 in July, a net increase in the roll of 142 during July. Withdrawals from the rolls account for the difference between the number of new cases added and the net increase, the association stated.

At the end of July there were 450 applications for old age aid pending in the county. At the close of April, there were 271 cases pending, with the number of applications trending upward for the months since April.

IRVINGTON MAN WRITES OF LIFE IN ICELAND

The fllowing letter written to Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Amaral of Main street, Irvington, from their son Lloyd, stationed in Iceland, was kindly brought in to this office for publication:

"Somewhere in Iceland"
August 9, 1943.

Dear Mom and Dad:

You are probably surprised to see that I can now mention where we are but are no more surprised than I was—I'll try and tell you as much as I can about Iceland.

First of all I'd better mention that the capital is Reykjavik, (pronounced Rake-a-veek). a fairly modern city of 45,000. It is said that Reykjavik reminds visitors of the better section of Brooklyn. Most of the buildings are constructed of concrete, due to the terrifically high winter winds. I doubt if wooden structures could stand the beating very long.

Transportation facilities are modern. the busses are modern and comfortable and most of the automobiles are of recent model. Most of the cars are American made, but you also find a large number of English, French, German and Italian cars. Driving is done on the left hand side of the road. I'll tell you of an incident I had once when first driving a vehicle: I had just arrived at Seydisfyordur about a week previous and had a chance to take a ride on an English motorcycle, so off I took.

As no one was in sight I was taking the whle road. when coming from the opposite direction was a girl on a bike. As we drew closer she went to her left, which was correct. I of course went to my right, which was U. S. style. As we drew closer together we kept going to the same side. To make it short, just before we collided, or turned off into the fjord (Bay) which was just off the edge of the road plus a ten foot drop I swerved and kinda piled up, but the girl went merrily on her way. I did not hurt myself, only my pride for forgetting the regulations, while almost getting a swim out of the episode. After that I made sure to keep on my own side of the road.

It wasn't bad when driving the British trucks, which have left-hand drive, but when we got into our own jeeps you kinda felt lost. After awhile it comes natural to drive on the left side of the road.

Getting back to Iceland: the Vikings arrived here about a thousand years ago and brought along with them Irish girls which they had kidnapped. The people are very light complected. It is a common sight to see platinum blondes. The girls on the average are pretty but very distant. I'd say this is more noticeable in Reykjavik as things got off to a bad start there when the first U. S. troops arrived. But even the British thought every American carried a tommy-gun in his back pocket.

The language spoken is very similar to Norwegian. Having known and been pretty close to Icelanders for the past 15 months I can get along fairly well conversationally, and can understand more than I can talk. Having known Spanish makes it a little difficult for me. As long as I am here it doesn't hurt to know a little of the language.

Strange as it may seem, most of the people speak English fairly well, especially the younger set. Practically everyone here can read and write and it is caimed that Iceland has one of the highest types of education in the world and the rate of intelligence is also among the highest. Many of the great writers of poetry and sagas are Icelandic.

Ever since we arrived here we had to discontinue using American currency; in it place we use Icelandic. It is very strange looking and confusing to handle at first. It consists of Kronurs and Auvars. A Kronur is worth .1547c, about 15c in U. S. money. It takes 100 Auvar to make a Kronur. There are 1, 2. 5, 10 and 50 and 100 Kronur bills. A 100 Kronur bill is worth about $15.47 in U. S. currency. The Eyere are practically useless as it takes 10 of them to make a U. S. penny.

I'll have to close now as it's almost time for me to go on duty—So goodbye for now. Say hello to everyone.

Love, LLOYD.
(Pfc. Lloyd Amaral, Signal Radio Int. CO., U. S. Army)

THE FUTURE SHINES!

The United States has won its first battle on the mainland of Europe, the stiffest battle fought by our troops since the Battle of the Marne back in the summer of 1918.

The good news was flashed forth last Friday that we had won our fight at Salerno, Italy and that the British Eighth Army under General Montgomery had effected a lightning junction with American troops fighting there. (Please note we have won all our battles thus far, because of our marvellous equipment, mighty fighting men, air and naval superiority—and because God is on our side.) Now on to Rome, the Po—and Berlin!

* * *

The Day of Reckoning for the downtrodden peoples of Europe, which will be the Day of Slaughter of the nazis, their Quislings, their gauleteirs, their SS and their Gestapo is not far off, and when it comes it will be fearful—for the nazis, and joyous to the tyrannized peoples who have suffered for years under the hated nazi boot.

Already the able bodied men of France, Greece, Norway, Belgium and Holland are organized into fighting forces via the underground, and await only the arrival of arms from the Allies, and the word "go" to make carnage of their oppressors.

After that happens there won't be so many damnazis left alive! All this wont happen today or tomorrow, but it is in the cards and is as inevitable as fate and destiny.

* * *

As for the Japs: we now have 108 Italian warships on our side, which, by not being used against us gives us an advantage of 216 extra warships, to be used with the released British and American fleets, freed of Mediterranean duty to deliver mightier blows against Jap holdings in the South Pacific, or against the Kuriles and Japan itself. Only the Admirals know when and where the blows will be struck.

Secretary Knox reported late last week that the United Nations sank NINETY nazi U-boats during May, June and July, or an average of one per day—and that's a marvellous record. Remember that each U-boat sunk takes down with it an average of 45 trained nazi submariners, and these men are harder to replace than the lost pig boats.

All in all—we are in the saddle at last and Uncle Sam and John Bull soon will be riding hard to catch up with the coattails of one Joe Stalin. Had it not been for Joe and the U. S. S. R. our star of destiny would not now be in the ascendancy.

Thank God for small favors!

THE "STRAW BOSS" SPEAKS!

The Voice of Mussolini speaks again—or does it?

The nazis, gloating over their rescue of Sick Duce from the edge of a cliff, a mountain prison, an island prison, a neutral country (check one) have all but forgotten to fight the war.

Anyway, the -Sawdust Ceasar has now become a straw boss and is rapping out Fascist orders as fast as the nazi radio can broadcast them—The nazis forgot to state whether they just rescued Mussolini's dead body, or was he still alive? Anyway, no one has yet heard his dear (?) voice over any radio, and if they did, it could be a good imitation done by any skilled stage actor.

At all events, poor Italy now has four gvoernments: what's left of the Badgolio emergency government; the royal government under King Victor Emmanuel; the nazi's revitalized "protectorate" government, and of course the AMG—Army Military Government.

It is this scribe's safe guess that only the latter government will survive more than a few more weeks of the present critical period in Italy's disturbed and disturbing history.

PLAY FAIR

On the front of the new ration point chart released to retailers by the OPA appears a cut of a housewife making this pledge:

I will pay no more than the top legal prices;

I will accept no rationed goods without giving up ration stamps.

The retail grocer for his part pledges:

I shall charge no more than top legal prices;

I will sell no rationed goods without collecting ration stamps for them.

Every buyer and seller should subscribe to the above pledges.

In its effort to destroy black market practices the government asks the retailer NOT to accept expired ration stamps, but to ask his customers to destroy them. If the customer uses them she takes more than her fair share and upsets the rationing system.

The government further asks dealers not to accept unused ration stamps to be turned into his wholesaler, because some other retailer will thereby lose his fair share of the supply of food available.

And don't accept loose ration stamps, (except red and brown 1 point stamps given in change): such loose stamps may have been acquired illegally by customers trying to get more food than they are entitled to—thus defeating the spirit of rationing.

If everybody plays fair—buyer and seller both—there will be sufficient of everything for everybody. Consider the case of coffee—which some people hoarded at the outset. They should feel cheap now.

Good sportsmanship is characteristic of Americans—it is something the nazis dont understand. Remember how Hitler walked out from the Olympic games in Berlin when American darkies defeated his nordic best in foot races? Let's us not be that way! This is America.

— W. W. —

The doughty sons of Ireland are fighting in all the armies of the United Nations, yet their homeland, kept safe by the might of the British navy, does not declare war on the enemy, which is manifestly unfair and unjust.

Just an example of the "devil-era" (deValera) Ireland is now undergoing.

LOOSENING UP

Civilian shortages in certain consumer items are improving steadily in some fields. Last Friday's radio announced that Army demands for camera films were being met and films for civilian use would soon become available in larger quantities.

The E H. Frick Plumbing company announces that October 1 it expects to receive a CARLOAD of glass jars for home canning purchases, and by the first of next month they will have new gas water heaters for sale, which can be had without turning in used units.

We are still short however of radio tubes, flashlight batteries, pipe cleaners, rubber bands, paper clips—but why go on? Oh yes,—and chewing gum!

A radio announcer inadvertently referred to Happy Harold the Itches as "Public Feud Adiminstrator" instead of "Feul" administrator—without bonds. So a slip of the tongue adds fuel to the fire—Happy Fuel!

THE "WHY" OF WAR BONDS

Here, picked at random, are a few of the gigantic costs of war which must be met by the Third War Loan Drive:

It is now costing nearly $1000,000,000 a day more to equip our men and take care of other war expenditures than we were spending a year ago.

Cartridges used by the millions, cost 3 cents each.

Steel helmets cost $3.75 and every fighting man must have one.

Machine guns range in price from $275 to $900.

Planes, now being produced at the rate of approximately 7,000 a month cost from $3,000 for the smallest, to $500,000 for a big bomber.

A destroyer escort, vital in submarine warfare, costs $5,000,000. The most expensive single item is a battleship, $97,000 000. A heavy cruiser costs $77,000,000 and a carrier $71,000 000.

A flying fortress costs $450,000.

— W W —

As far as traffic casualties are concerned (and they are unhappily increasing—did you ever hear of a "happy" traffic accident?)—how about giving pedestrians the "brake"?

— W W —

SLAP HAPPY?

Because of the existing high retail prices of California wine the vintners have been paying the growers from $75 to $85 per ton for wine grapes for crushing this season.

The boys at Washington heard that grape growers were making good money after many lean years so—instead of reducing the price of wine they decided to more than cut in half the price paid wine-grape growers while still leaving the retail price of wine as high as it was. This tends to make the grape grower operate at a loss while the wine wholesalers make big profits.

Pretty, isn't it? The University of California agricultural economists, who rarely express themselves on controversial subjects, because business matters do not properly fall within their province. in this case have sounded off some what emphatically in favor of the grape growers and against the OPA.

And little wonder. The OPA put a ceiling on the prices wineries could pay the growers, of $37.10 a ton for grapes processed out of state and $30.30 a ton for grapes crushed within the state. As this small return would put grape-growers out of business, what with high labor and other costs, winery buyers are going right ahead paying from $75 to $85 per ton for wine grapes, and are ignoring the OPA order, because the grape buyers know more about local conditions than do the bright boys of the OPA in Washington. many of whom have never seen a grape grow.

Just another glaring example of of the inefficiency of the OPA, a shining example of which was their failure to set the beet sugar acreage last fall until three months after planting time, with the result that only one sixth the sugar beet acreage was planted that should have been planted, to meet domestic needs for sugar this year. So the big Holly Sugar plant at Alvarado is closed this year at a time when beet sugar is desperately needed—all because of official bungling.

Whn our seat of government is moved from Washington, D. C. ("District of Confusion") to Kansas City or St. Louis then our government agencies may come down out of the clouds and actually become conscious of conditions as they are not as they are supposed to be. —W. W.

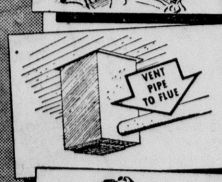
RIGHT NOW is a good time to check up on the gas heating devices in your home. If repair is needed—do it at once. Usually, however, a good cleaning to remove dust and rust is enough. See examples below:

1 Take off the grill on your wall register or floor furnace. Have a cardboard carton handy and go to work with a brush or vacuum cleaner. A pancake turner can serve to lift out heavy dirt.

2 Is yours a forced-air furnace? Then take out filter pads. Give them a good cleaning or replace with new pads. Each fall have a heating dealer check over the furnace, fan, motor, controls and pilot light.



3 Take a look at the vent pipe that connects your heater and other gas equipment to the flue. If it is rusted out—have it replaced now.

4 Watch room temperature and save gas. Overheating your home isn't healthy anyway. If your fireplace has a damper—close it when the gas heat is on. It's good economy.

Gas Heating devices are built to give long years of service. Rust and dust are their worst enemies. With a little care now and then they will see you through the duration.

Township Drivers Penalized For Not Signing Stamps

The Washington Township Rationing Board gas panel has gone into the tailoring business for the duration. "Tailoring" to the motorist means tearing out gas coupons as penalties for infringement of various OPA regulations.

Appearing before the board last week were seven offenders, all of whom received "tailored" coupon books. Manuel Grant of P. O. Box 123, Niles, lost eight stamps good for 32 gallons of gas out of his A book when he reported loss of A and B books at Stockton, none of the coupons having been endorsed. Santos M. Rangel of P. O. Box 518 Niles, only lost one coupon because his book had been endorsed. Others reporting lost books were Jose Guadara, Decoto; Julia Huizar, P. O Box 53, Newark; William Sinclair, Irvington and Elihu J. Petersen of Half Moon Bay. Stamps are deducted on the ratio of one coupon penalized for each 10 lost.

Felix Abrenica of Irvington forfeited six coupons for speeding 58 miles per hour on the Monterey road near Gilroy.

This sum includes about $300 cleared at the Toyon Salvage Shop on First Street, Niles open each Wednesday and Saturday; $100 raised at a garden party at the home of Mrs George Cushman at Mission San Jose and contributions to the memory fund.

Many Articles Sold

Also collected at the salvage shop are various articles for service men—walking canes costume jewelry for barter and magazines. In addition to used clothing, articles of practically every description find themselves in adopted homes—white elephants that are reincarnated into prize possessions of new owners. Mrs. Cushman has been named shop chairman and her assistants are Mrs. Edna Overacker and Mrs. R. L. Wright.

The secretary was instructed at last week's meeting to send a check to the hospital's memory fund in honor of the late Frank Clark, a long time supporter of branch projects.

PEERLESS GRILL TO REMAIN OPEN

Notwithstanding their advertisement published in last week's Township Register advising that their restaurant would be closed every Wednesday, The Peerless Grill will have to remain open seven days a week because of public demand, Manager Theodore Econome advises this newspaper.

The extra work thrown on the grill on Tuesdays before closing and Thursdays after reopening makes the Wednesday closing unfeasable, he says.

HARVEST LABOR PROBLEM LICKED. SPEAKER REPORTS

E. Dixon Bristow of Niles, Washington Township chairman of harvest labor under the Farm Labor Board brought the surprising good news to the Men's Fellowship club meeting in the Niles Congregational Church Guildrooms last Thursday evening that there was no farm labor shortage in Southern Alameda County. This because of the thorough advance preparation which had been made by competent authorities, and because of the late tomato season and relatively lighter yield than last year.

Notwithstanding the fact that 6,000 acres of tomatoes had been panted in Washington Township this year, a considerably larger acreage than last year, the gross yield for this season will be less than last year because of prevailing cool weather, a light crop and the prevalence of some blight.

RESERVE SUPPLY

Only a sudden prolonged hot spell will upset the present picture he said, as speaker of the evening, and there is enough adult help listed in the metropolitan centers awaiting work to take care of such an emergency without having to dismiss schools and use student labor.

Turning to club matters the membership elected Fred Duffie as president, succeeding E. F. Glassbrook who had capably served for two years; Dan Marble as vice president and re-elected Walter Waynflete as secretary-treasurer.

Guests present included J. V. Goold of Centerville, W. K. Clark, Ed Enos and Bristow of Niles, and Reverend Herbert Brooke of Ukiah who spoke feelingly on the urgent need of non-church-going men returning to the practice as well as the professing of the "faith of their fathers." Clark, Enos and Bristow were voted into membership.

Rising thanks were given to the ladies of the Sanford Circle, Mrs. Jennie Mohn, president, Mrs. D. Q Grabill and Mrs. Nell Myers for preparing the fine dinner.

LADIES NIGHT

It was voted to make the third Thursday of each month the regular meeting night with the exception of the coming meeting in October, which will be held on the fourth Thursday, October 28, as a Hallowe'en party, combined with ladies night and a box social supper. Each member will be asked to bring to the October meeting two ration points good for meat purchases to be used by the Sanfrd Circle ladies when preparing the dinner for the November meeting.

E. E. Dias and Ted Glassbrook were named co-chairmen of the Hallowe'en meeting and were authorized to spend a few dollars for Hallowe'en decorations and trinkets.

R. A. Blacow, Niles chairman of the Third War Loan drive committee reported that this drive's totals would be reported only on a Township-wide rather than a community basis as there were only four banks to serve the eight communities, in addition to the local postoffices, wherefore the communities where banks are not located heretofore had found it difficult to make as good showings as the four communities where the banks are situated. He reported total sales of $135,000 of bonds for the first week of the drive towards reaching the Township's quota of $560,000.

A son was born on September 9 to the wife of Glenn Metcalf of 723 First street, Niles. He was named James Duane and weighed in at 7 pounds, 15 ounces.

RATIONED FOODS MAY NOT BE GIVEN AS CARD PARTY PRIZES

There is no provision in the Rationing Regulations to allow a person to give away rationed foods which he has purchased by using his own ration book from a retailer or other supplier. Every individual is entitled to his fair share of the Nation's food supply for consumption either by himself or members of his family unit. If he or his family do not have to use the total points available in their War Ration Books, then they do not have the privilege of using the stamps and giving the food away, even though it may be for such a worthy purpose as a church affair, the Township Rationing Board states.

Persons who eat at a common table may pool their points for the purpose of acquiring foods to be served to them. If church members desire, they and their friends may give points to a church organization for the purpose of serving a meal to be consumed by the persons who donate the points. Only those who will be present at the serving of the meal may donate points.

Jams and jellies are not subject to rationing and may be donated according to OPA regulations.

The Hayward Plunge closes on Sunday evening, October 3 Manager L. C. Van Houten states.
